

About Us

Torkin Manes LLP is a full service, mid-sized law firm based in downtown Toronto. Our clientele ranges from public and private corporations, to financial institutions, to professional practices, to individuals. We have built our firm from the ground up—by understanding our clients' business needs, being results-oriented, practical, smart, cost-effective and responsive.

Torkin Manes offers the services of more than 90 lawyers covering the same areas of expertise as larger firms, but with all the advantages of a mid-sized, entrepreneurial law firm. We have chosen to work in a collegial, close-knit group that builds strong client relationships and a great law firm. We recognize that the correct technical response is usually only the beginning of providing full service; the value proposition for our clients is our creativity and innovation in applying the law to address their issues. We develop the best mix and number of lawyers and staff for each client file, keeping in mind a client's need for efficiency and continuity.

Our lawyers are highly respected in the profession and the community as leaders in their practice areas, as well as advocates, authors and teachers. They are regularly invited to speak at and chair major continuing legal education events.
